Hi Laurie,

I think that's an interesting possibility and we should discuss. As far as our current decision process, I think we should evaluate the TMDL based on information we have in front of us. But knowing that they could fairly easily revise it to include the new hatchery is good information to have!

Curious to hear what you've talked about with him, and then perhaps we can have follow-up conversations with Andrew soon.

Thanks,

Miranda & Dave,

Andrew left me a phone message on Friday, (b) (5)

I'm not sure how relevant this is to our present decision process - - so I'm not sure how to follow-up with him (e.g. set up a meeting? Have him call Miranda? Tell him we'll discuss this later?)
